Throgs Listen to President's Praise for the Dead.

The remains were to be conveyed to the burial place in the presence of the people. The funeral services were held in the First Congregational Church, and the body was then removed to the depot, and the funeral train left for Washington at 12:25 o'clock. The church was lined with people, and the train was followed by an immense concourse of people, who lined the avenue leading from the church to the station.

The President will receive the body at Washington on Friday night, and the funeral train will leave for Philadelphia on Saturday morning, and from there to New York, arriving at the latter place on Sunday evening. The body will then be conveyed to the houses of the deceased and the funeral services held in the next city.
